

ITALIAN SILVER 925

XITS CREATION.

This factor is established by the artisan jewelers, who, through the complexity, luxury, and originality they impart to their designs, add value to the jewelry.

ITS HISTORY.

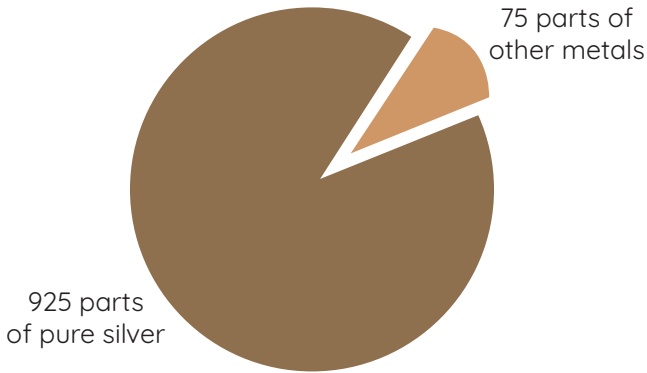

Since ancient times, jewelry has been objects that have marked the history of humanity. An example of this is the British Crown Jewels. They are also often passed down from generation to generation, thus creating a tradition.

ITS EMOTIONAL VALUE.

Jewelry carries a high sentimental value, as it accompanies us during the most important moments of our lives, such as baptisms, weddings, graduations, and anniversaries. Moreover, wearing them makes us remember and relive those happy moments we experienced. If you are thinking of giving an unbeatable gift, visit your Guvier Boutique and remember that the true value of jewelry lies in what you want to express with it.

When we say 925 silver, we refer to the fact that the jewelry contains 92.5% silver and the rest consists of other metals. In other words, out of every 1000 parts, 925 are pure silver.

The numbers 950 and 925 indicate the purity level of the silver, meaning that the closer they are to 1000, the purer they are. However, pieces of 1000 grade are not made because they would be too soft and would bend easily.
